

Birds of Adirondack Waterways

In the video this week we explored some of the different birds that live in the many waterways of the Adirondacks. These special birds that include ducks, geese, and loons are known as waterfowl!

Your Challenge:

Create, Describe, and Draw your own, brand new, species of waterfowl below!

Naturalist Notes:

Remember to consider how your waterfowl:

- Moves around _____
- Stays dry _____
- Finds its food _____

These Adaptations will make sure that your waterfowl is a successful in its aquatic habitat.

CHALLENGE: Can you remember some of the key differences between Ducks and Loons? How about song birds and waterfowl?